

Raising Aspirations Raising Achievement

Why we do what we do

- It's proven that students who know what career they want to follow, obtain better grades at GCSE and A levels
- Knowing the employers' requirements of their chosen career occupation will help them identify which skills they need to develop, improving their chances of a successful application
- We believe that we have developed a CEIAG programme at Nobel which is second to none, and will provide your child/ren with the opportunity to identify possible career choices from as early as year 7

Important Information

For many years, this site has provided easy (and free!) access to public transport timetable information. We only ask for details of the journey that you wish to make. We do not retain this, and we do not gather any personal information about you. There is no reason, therefore, to be concerned about any "Not secure" warnings that your browser may soon show you. Nevertheless, we are taking steps to meet the requirements so that such warnings will not be shown. Please be assured that our site remains as safe to use as it has always been.

Timetables for your journey

On each journey plan, most bus and coach legs have a "timetable" button. Click this (or the service number in the description) for a full timetable of the particular service. The timetables are presented in three sections - Mon-Fri, Sat and Sun in each direction - with extra sections for public holidays. You can ask for "all stops" or just "main stops", depending on the detail you want. If you want to print a timetable, click the "Print version" button for a printable PDF file. Some timetables show more than one service where they share large sections of route.
